

WE HELP YOU REACH YOUR ESG TARGETS

This is what an
URBAN FARMER
looks like

You're striving to meet your ESG targets, and we're here to help. An Office Farm is a high impact way of meeting a wide range of objectives from a single solution. Providing you with a tool to help you reach your Environmental and Social goals.

ENVIRONMENTAL

Office Farms provides a fresh, low-mile source of food for building occupants, with fresh produce direct from harvest to the onsite catering kitchen. This not only reduces the employee-related scope 3 emissions but also establishes an onsite food solution.

Central to its design, the Office Farm offers a highly visible space that contributes to your employee awareness program and engages them on how to reduce the environmental impact of our food choices. Through engaging harvests and interactive events, employees are empowered to make sustainable food choices, whether growing at home or buying from local food sources.

SOCIAL

We work with you to extend the impact of your Office Farm to the wider community. This involves partnering with local charities and community groups to provide access to fresh, nutrient-rich produce for those who need it most.

Additionally, we work with you to engage with local school groups and community organisations. They can learn more about growing at home and sustainable food systems. As well as connecting with nature through participating in a harvest held at your Office Farm.

Within the office, the Urban Farm serves as a hub where your people can develop healthy eating habits while also promoting a sustainable lifestyle. It also serves as a tool to improve the mental wellbeing of employees through regular engagement with nature.
